

China

How long would it take to become “the first” ?

China is growing very fast !

Its GDP has moved up at a yearly average of more than 9% for the past 2 decades ...
Some of the reasons of the actual performances, are the foreign investments in that large economy and the attraction it has on the outsourcers candidates.

However, that impressive reality is hiding critical aspects for the China development.

In short, politics, capitalism emergence, extremely rapid growth control, population education, local new technology R&D, pollution, health and security, etc ... as the list isn't over yet.

In front of these two paradoxical “pictures”, how do you foresee your future with China ?
As a competitor ? A partner ? A place for off-shoring your activities ? Or, what else ... ?

We're inviting you for a debate : send us your straight comments and views.

Address : fbcs@fbc-e.com and add “China” in the subject line.

We'll publish them for more to share with our visitors.

We look forward to reading from you soon.

FBC>s Magazine Chief Editor

FBC>s / FUTURE-BASED CONSULTANCY & SOLUTIONS

Pacific Building
14 / 1403, Willems Street
1210 Brussels – Belgium
Phone +322 230.9590
Mobile +32 476.521.060
Email fbcs@fbc-e.com
Site www.fbc-e.com