The concept

Everyday, new “compliances” -a very large concept that is covering all aspects of the management considered as “beaux-arts” - are required : managing business processes changes -physically and / or virtually- are critically oppressing.

Becoming better constantly is a first individual challenge for all of us before envisaging to face the galloping global challenge !

The world population has taken the control of the WEB and only the best prospectivists had predicted such a rapid evolution (1) !

Because it has never been an epoch like that before, we've created the WikiBiz.Biz concept.

It's about setting the talents together. Talents from all over the world for the reason of the burgeoning opportunities multiplications and diversifications.

It's like a “continuous economical spring”. And maybe, will it stop most of the conflicts our world is still suffering from !?

A “continuous economical spring” needs excellent staffs, executive pilots and top advisers.

Also, professors, scientists, researchers.

We'll try to meet the most of them. We'll make them meeting each other. Face-to-face ideally in our BIZ352 place or in some other places from time to time or virtually thanks to the abundance of the electronic means.

And then, will it be also about learning programs, and assistance in our partners' offices.

A visionary uniqueness is the unavoidable principle for us and it will remain like this for ever.

Knowing the fine detail of corporate lives is the ultimate for servicing and defining the really innovative solution !

The philosophy

Your business is your business and it has its very special own characteristics !

Being in need of assistance, why would you call for a group having its own consultancy guidance, willing your enterprise to use them for an innovative move ? Paradoxical ... don't you think so ?

Well ... a professional consultant, with the clear-sight of a extended business experience, understands what building the business -your business- has meant to the entrepreneur you are.

That's the reason why a “FBC>s advisor & coach” starts looking at the valid best parts of it for keeping the core business essentials into the next steps !

We'll activate and catalyze the collaborators and employees talents, adapt to new forms of communication and computer technology, conduct a rational change based on shared values, set rejuvenated performances standards for moving beyond the global economy challenge boosted by the powerful digital reality ! To say it shortly, we'll capture the imagination embedded in your corporate culture and inter-connected environment to feed the move towards the most defendable future-based positioning!
